

MidWeek

Business Leaders On The Move In Hawaii

June 25, 2008

By Alana Folen

May Cabauatan has been hired as revenue manager for Aqua Hotels & Resorts. Cabauatan's responsibilities include overseeing Hotel Renew, Aqua Coconut Waikiki, Aqua Continental and Aqua Waikiki Beachside. Most recently she was guest services manager for Aqua Bamboo & Spa.

Aaron Eberhardt has been named executive director for Hawaii Lumber Products Association (HLPA). Eberhardt will work with HLPA's president to increase the organization's presence and awareness of the association mission and goals throughout the community. He also will serve in an outreach capacity, working to increase relations with state legislators and industry professionals.

Andrew Rosen has been hired as senior vice president and chief marketing officer for Central Pacific Bank. Rosen's duties include overseeing the bank's product management, marketing analytics and alternative and future delivery channels divisions. Prior to joining CPB, he served as senior vice president of Washington Mutual where he led product management and strategy.

Todd F. Jackson has been promoted to senior vice president and executive loan officer for Central Pacific Bank's Real Estate Loan division. Jackson has more than 30 years of banking experience and is responsible for increasing the Division's loan portfolio and focusing on development projects in Hawaii.